Subject: New “Regulatory Updates” Webpage Highlights Recent Local and State Legislation Related to Development

To inform and better support developments within the City of San Diego, the Development Services Department (DSD) has released a new “Regulatory Updates” webpage to highlight recent state and local legislation.

The webpage is a convenient and streamlined resource customers can use to better understand and stay up to date with recent regulatory changes and how they may be applied to projects within the City. It will continue to be updated as new local and state legislation is adopted.

Legislation is divided between “Local Programs” and “State Programs,” which can be accessed using the tabs at the top of the main webpage. Details specific to each regulation can then be accessed by selecting the applicable item. The page also directs to both the City’s Housing Affordability Toolkit, a comprehensive guide to the City’s many programs aimed at incentivizing more accessible housing, and the Downtown Development Toolkit, which highlights the many opportunities available to facilitate building in Downtown San Diego.
