

COMMUNITY PLANNERS

WHAT DO COMMUNITY PLANNERS IN THE CITY PLANNING DEPARTMENT DO?

- A community planner is assigned to each planning area within the City of San Diego.
- Attend planning group meetings in-person 3 to 4 times throughout the year, address questions and take feedback concerning the General Plan, community plans and other City land use plans and policies from community members in their assigned communities.
- Reach out to planning group chairs monthly to offer support.
- Review larger and more complex proposed development projects that require a decision on consistency with the General Plan and community plans, generally items heard by the Planning Commission and City Council.
- Prepare updates and amendments to community plans, the General Plan, zoning and development regulations and other City land use plans.

HOW DO COMMUNITY PLANNERS SUPPORT PLANNING GROUPS, THE COMMUNITY PLANNERS COMMITTEE, AND COMMUNITY MEMBERS IN GENERAL?

- Serve as single point of contact for planning group inquiries about land use or other related matters and engage in productive, meaningful and respectful communication with community members.
- Share information about what the City Planning Department is working on throughout the year.
- Maintain contact with and address questions from their assigned planning group related to Council Policy 600-24, which explains the operating procedures and responsibilities of recognized planning groups.

HOW ARE CITYWIDE PLANNING AND ZONING INITIATIVES SHARED WITH COMMUNITY PLANNING GROUPS?

- Planning staff also provides support to the Community Planners Committee, which is composed of the chair, or officially designated representative of each recognized planning group.
- Land use issues that are citywide and regional in scope are shared with the Community Planners Committee for review and recommendation per Council Policy 600-09.

WHO CAN HELP ANSWER QUESTIONS ON ZONING, PERMITS, AND THE CITY'S DEVELOPMENT REVIEW PROCESS?

- The City of San Diego Development Services Department oversees the review, permitting, and inspections of development projects.
- Community planning groups and the public may contact Development Services to ask questions about zoning and development regulations specific to a particular development project.
- You can set up an appointment with Development Services Department staff by booking a Virtual Counter Appointment, calling 619-446-5000 or you can find additional resources on the Development Services Department website.
