A MESSAGE TO OUR PARTNERS

FROM THE PROMISE ZONE STAFF

Hello and happy November!

As we move into the heart of fall, the San Diego Promise Zone remains dedicated to our promise of co-creating equitable opportunities and improving quality of life in our communities.

In this season of gratitude, we want to take a moment to recognize the amazing work of our partners. Together, we are building a more inclusive and resilient future for all residents of the Promise Zone. We also give thanks for our veterans and invite you to read about the City's efforts to hire more of them.

We are excited to hold an in-person All-Partner Meeting on Thursday, Dec. 5. You'll hear many Promise Zone updates, have an opportunity to celebrate successes, and contribute to the City's Broadband Master Plan. Please save the date!

Stay tuned for exciting opportunities, upcoming events, and ways you can stay involved as we continue to tackle the challenges that matter most. Thank you for your commitment and support.

With gratitude,
San Diego Promise Zone

WORKING GROUP UPDATES

Jobs and Education

On October 17, the Jobs and Education Working Group gathered for a co-chair presentation on our logic model, focusing on purpose and action steps toward goals. Following this, we hosted the P.O.W.E.R. Hour career workshop, equipping participants with key skills to help them succeed in their career journeys. In November, we look forward to the digital equity focus group to be held during our regular meeting, as it will focus on improving internet access and digital resources in the Promise Zone. For more information, please reach out to Donika Moreno, donikam@sandiego.gov, or Ronah Fe Famorcan, RFFamorcan@sandiego.gov.

Economic Activity

The October Economic Activity meeting was centered around identifying economic challenges and creating resources to overcome them. Gabriela Gonzalez and Miguel Lopez of the San Diego Foundation presented the recently published State of Latinos report that explored the economic challenges facing the Latino population of San Diego. Megan Thomas from Catalyst presented on the process behind the creation of their business matrix, and its purpose as an all-in-one document for small business resources that have been offered across San Diego. In November, we look forward to the digital equity focus group, as it will focus on improving internet access and digital resources in the Promise Zone.

For more information, reach out to Domanic Riley, Driley@sandiego.gov.

Housing Affordability:

Weds., Jan. 8, 2025
10:00-11:30 AM

Healthy Communities

The working group met on October 10 and heard guest presentations from Diane Moss of Project New Village on their new food and resource hub in development, 'The Village,' and from Paola Boylan of the City's Planning Department on their Healthy Cities, Healthy Residents program and child-and-teen-friendly city design manual. During our next meeting on November 14, we look forward to inviting FoodShed Co-op to discuss their local food access programs for farmers and consumers, as well as Families for Safe Streets to hear about their upcoming event, the World Day of Remembrance. We will also continue working on our action plans. For more information, reach out to Zachary Engberg, zengberg@sandiego.gov, or Bex Nava-McClellan, rnavamcclell@sandiego.gov.

Housing Affordability

During the October 31 Housing Affordability working group meeting, the group heard a presentation from Karen Clay, founder of I Love to Glean and co-chair of the Healthy Communities working group, about the effort to supply those displaced by the January floods with healthy foods. In addition, the group discussed the idea and potential of a developer's forum in San Diego. Lastly, the group continued to work on moving forward with the logic model. The next meeting will be Wednesday, January 8 at 10am. For more information, reach out to Oscar Silva, OSilva@sandiego.gov.

Community Spotlight:

Renato Paiva

Renato Paiva's journey into youth development began while coaching squash at Harvard University, where he realized that many talented young people lacked access to opportunities. Inspired by his belief that "a life is only worth living if it is a life of service," Renato committed himself to empowering underrepresented youth.

In 2006, Renato founded Access Youth Academy (AYA) in San Diego, initially operating in a small, rented space in Mira Mesa. Seeing the transformative potential of squash for underserved youth, he set out to expand the program. By 2020, after a decade of hard work and a $12 million fundraising effort, AYA opened a 22,000-square-foot Squash & Educational Facility in Southeastern San Diego, an area with high need. Today, this state-of-the-art facility serves 21 schools and offers students mentorship, leadership development, and health and wellness resources.

Through the City of San Diego's competitive Notice of Funding Availability (NOFA) process, AYA was awarded Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) funding for fiscal years 2020, 2023, 2024, and 2025. These grants not only covered essential construction costs but also supported AYA's ongoing public service programs, allowing the organization to plan sustainably, broaden its impact, and cultivate a meaningful partnership with the City.

The CDBG funding has allowed AYA to expand its reach, serve more students, and establish a strong foundation for long-term success. When asked what advice he would give to other nonprofit leaders seeking funding for similar youth development programs, Renato's message is clear: focus on the service first. "Make sure the outcomes are clear and the message is clear," he advises. "Good governance, strong organization, and clarity in mission are crucial before applying for funding."

He emphasizes that nonprofit work is about more than just financial currency; it's also about service currency. Access Youth Academy is driven by the belief that helping low-income students succeed in both education and sports can transform their lives. Whether people want to offer financial support or simply raise awareness, Renato encourages everyone to get involved in the mission of AYA, proving that meaningful contributions don't always have to be financial.

Together, we can make a lasting impact on the next generation.

For more on Access Youth Academy, visit their website or contact Renato at renato@accessyouthacademy.org.

Reminder: CDBG applications for FY2026 are open until Nov. 8, 2024.

PROMISE ZONE UPDATES

"It has been a pleasure to volunteer for my year of service with the San Diego Promise Zone. In the last year I have had the amazing opportunity to connect with so many hard-working, diligent, values-minded individuals representing organizations that are making a positive difference in the lives so many people. I have learned so much in this role that I will take with me on my next adventure, wherever that may be. I encourage everyone who reads this message to continue to do everything you can to manifest the positive change you want to see on a daily basis, and to not lose sight of your role in creating the bright, inspiring future generations from now will benefit from."- Ian Hembree, Civic Engagement Associate

"I am a first-generation college graduate, having graduated from SDSU in May 2024 with a bachelor's degree in Political Science. The love for my community has led me to volunteer in many different capacities, from being an interpreter for Spanish speakers seeking legal advice to participating in cleanups. I am very excited to be working with you all and providing the Promise Zone with opportunities that will uplift the people of the communities."- Oscar Silva, Civic Engagement Associate

Thank you to everyone who joined us for "Put Your Best Foot Forward - How to Present Yourself to Employers," the first session in our P.O.W.E.R. Hour series! We hope the experience provided valuable insights to help you stand out in today's job market. A special thanks to our presenters and volunteers who shared their time and expertise.

Once again, thank you for being part of this journey toward a brighter future. We look forward to seeing you at our next event!

NONPROFIT FUNDING OPPORTUNITY

COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT GRANT

The Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) is a U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) Entitlement Grant that the City receives to develop viable urban communities by providing decent housing and a suitable living environment, and by expanding economic opportunities, principally for low- and moderate-income persons. The City of San Diego Economic Development Department administers these funds to support projects and programs that serve City of San Diego communities. Interested nonprofit organizations can apply for this funding via the CDBG Annual NOFA process.

The NOFA consists of two phases: the Request for Qualifications (RFQ) phase and the Request for Proposals (RFP) phase.

Individuals may add their name and contact information to the CDBG email distribution list to receive up-to-date information about the Annual NOFA and other related programs.

Visit edgrants.force.com to view information on currently open NOFAs and associated resources.

ASSISTANCE

The RFQ Checklist is available on the website to help interested organizations prepare all required documents for the release of the CDBG NOFA. The listed requirements will need to be entered into ED Grants once released.

AT A GLANCE

RFQ SUBMITTAL

- Closes November 8, 2024 at 5 p.m.

RFP SUBMITTAL

- Anticipated release is December 9, 2024
- Tentative deadline January 17, 2025

NOT READY YET?

Are you interested in City funding but not quite sure if CDBG is a good fit? We're happy to help you find a program that might be a better match for your organization. From Capacity Building funding to Arts and Culture funding, we want to make sure you are connected in with the right people. Email us at cdbg@sandiego.gov with a little information about what you're looking for and we can refer you to the correct program.

GRANT OPPORTUNITIES

Community Enhancement Program

The Community Enhancement Program funds grants for cultural activities, museums, visitor and convention bureaus, economic development councils, and other similar institutions at the regional and community levels throughout San Diego County. Only nonprofit or government/public agencies operating in San Diego County may apply. Non-profit entities must use County funding for:

- Tourism or economic development
- Services which attract tourists
- Services which create jobs and/or promote a better quality of life

Grant awards are made throughout the fiscal year and there is no deadline for submitting an application.

Award Amount: Dependent on Project

Deadline: Rolling

Neighborhood Reinvestment Program

The Neighborhood Reinvestment Program provides grant funds to County departments, public agencies, and to non-profit organizations for one-time community, social, environmental, education, cultural or recreational needs. Only non-profit or government/public agencies operating in San Diego County may apply. Non-County government entities may apply to fund projects that benefit the community and enhance the region's quality of life. A higher priority shall be given to requests for capital projects and/or one-time expenses. Non-profit entities must provide services in or more of the following areas:

- Educational/recreational projects for children and/or adults
- Local business and tourism promotional activities
- Arts and cultural programs
- Environmental awareness programs or projects, including maintaining and increasing open space holdings
- Public safety programs including fire protection
- Health and social service initiatives and programs.

Grant awards are made throughout the fiscal year and there is no deadline for submitting an application.

Award Amount: Dependent on Project

Community Food Projects Competitive Grant Program

The purpose of the Community Food Projects Competitive Grants Program is to bring together stakeholders from distinct parts of the food system and to foster understanding of national food security trends and how they might improve local food systems. Projects should address food and nutrition security, particularly among the nation's historically underrepresented communities. Two types of grants are available: Community Food Projects and Planning Projects. Community Food Projects grants seek solutions over the longer term rather than focusing on short-term food relief.

Award Amount: $25,000 - $400,000

Deadline: November 7, 2024

Prebys Sparx Challenge

The Prebys Foundation, in collaboration with Carrot, proudly announces the launch of Prebys Sparx, a groundbreaking challenge aimed at improving youth mental health and well-being across San Diego County. The Prebys Sparx challenge seeks to stimulate innovative solutions that leverage the power of arts, culture, and nature to address mental health challenges among San Diego County's youth. Nonprofit organizations based in or collaborating with local San Diego nonprofits are invited to participate.

Award Amount: 1,000,000 to Winner and $25,000 to 4 Honorable Mentions

Lorrie Otto Seeds for Education Grant

The SFE program provides meaningful learning opportunities that connect youth to nature and the Wild Ones mission. For more than 25 years, this vital Wild Ones donor-funded program has provided grants ranging from $100 to $500 for native plant gardens and landscaping projects throughout the United States. The funds are designated for acquiring native plants and seeds for outdoor learning areas that engage youth (preschool to high school) directly in planning, planting and caring for native plant gardens.

Award Amount: $100 to $500

Deadline: November 15, 2024

FY24 WaterSMART Water and Energy Efficient Grant

This Water and Energy Efficiency Grants Notice of Funding Opportunity (NOFO) provides funding for projects that result in quantifiable water savings, implement renewable energy components, and support broader sustainability benefits. These projects conserve and use water more efficiently; increase the production of renewable energy; mitigate conflict risk in areas at a high risk of future water conflict; and accomplish other benefits that contribute to sustainability in the Western United States.

Award Amount: $5,000,000

Deadline: November 13, 2024

NSF Research Traineeship (NRT) Program

The NSF Research Traineeship (NRT) program seeks proposals that explore ways for graduate students in research-based master's and doctoral degree programs to develop the skills, knowledge, and competencies needed to pursue a range of STEM careers. The program is dedicated to effective training of STEM graduate students in high priority interdisciplinary or convergent research areas, through a comprehensive traineeship model that is innovative, evidence-based, and aligned with changing workforce and research needs. Researchers at minority serving institutions and emerging research institutions are strongly encouraged to submit proposals.

The Teagle Foundation: Transfer Pathways to the Liberal Arts

The Teagle Foundation works to support and strengthen liberal arts education in the United States. The Foundation's Transfer Pathways to the Liberal Arts initiative, jointly sponsored with the Arthur Vining Davis Foundations, aims to bring the lifelong benefits of a liberal arts education to students who historically have been excluded from higher education—including low-income students, first-generation students, students of color, and immigrant students—who now constitute the “new majority” of undergraduates and depend on community college as their gateway to higher education. Support is provided for statewide, regional, or academic partnerships between public two-year and private four-year colleges to facilitate transfer and completion of the baccalaureate in the liberal arts. The focus is on building comprehensive curricular frameworks between community colleges and independent colleges and ensuring alignment in learning objectives between lower and upper division coursework, transferability and applicability of credits, and timely completion of the baccalaureate in the liberal arts.

Award Amount: Up to $25,000 for planning and up to $350,000 for implementation

Deadline: December 1, 2024

Cornerstone: Learning for Living Initiative

The Teagle Foundation invites applications for the Cornerstone: Learning for Living initiative, a grant program to reinvigorate the role of the humanities in general education, and in doing so, expose a broad array of students to the power of the humanities; help students of all backgrounds build a sense of belonging and community; strengthen the coherence and cohesiveness of general education; and increase teaching opportunities for humanities faculty.

Award Amount: Up to $300,000

Civic Engagement in the Promise Zone

In the San Diego Promise Zone, civic engagement plays a pivotal role in addressing the challenges residents face. It's not merely a process; it's a lifeline for residents to actively participate in the decision-making processes that directly impact their lives. By involving residents in understanding the unique issues that the Promise Zone faces, such as economic inequalities and educational gaps, civic engagement allows for the co-creation of effective strategies tailored to the community's specific needs.

CITY SPOTLIGHT ON CITY JOBS

Looking for a career that combines public service, personal growth, and stability? The City of San Diego might be your perfect match. City employees contribute to essential services that improve life in San Diego, from keeping parks beautiful to enhancing public safety. More than a job, it's a chance to make a real impact while enjoying great benefits and professional growth.

The City offers structured advancement programs, mentorship, and training designed to open doors to leadership. Plus, the Career Advancement rule encourages you to explore new roles as you grow. The City's benefits are extensive—comprehensive health coverage, retirement plans, wellness programs, and entry-level roles like Management Trainee and Administrative Aide positions provide solid steppingstones for those new to public service.

Applying can feel daunting, but the City's Employment Information Sessions, held at San Diego libraries, offer guidance on everything from resume tips to interview prep, making the process approachable and fair.

Additionally, veterans in the City's workforce find a strong, supportive community thanks to Jon Aasted, a Navy service member and the City's Veteran Engagement Coordinator. Jon has been dedicated to enhancing veteran recruitment by connecting veterans with roles that match their skills through programs like SkillBridge, which eases the transition to government careers. Beyond recruitment, Jon fosters camaraderie among veteran employees by organizing community-building events and establishing the City of San Diego Veterans Association, a network that strengthens connections and support among veterans and military spouses within the City.

ABOUT THE PROMISE ZONE

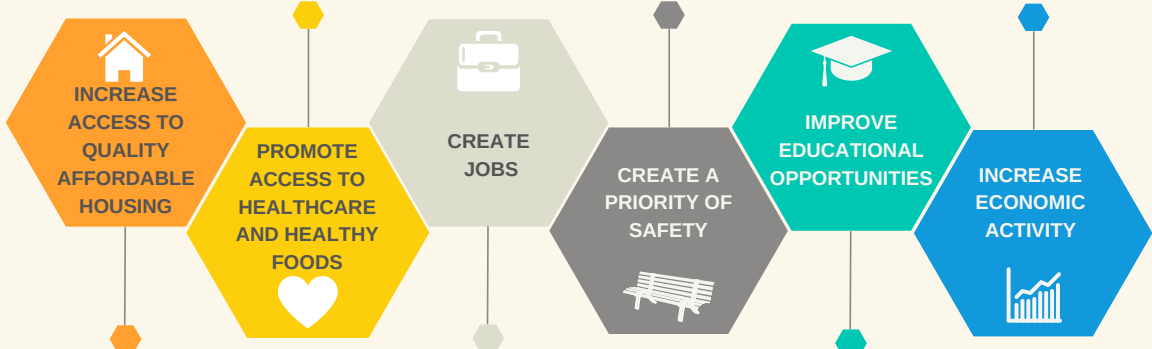

In 2016, the San Diego Promise Zone became one of 22 federally designated Promise Zones in the United States and one of only four in California. The San Diego Promise Zone covers a 6.4-square-mile targeted area with more than 80,000 residents that spans East Village and Barrio Logan east to Encanto. It is home to the City's most culturally rich and ethnically diverse neighborhoods, but also some of the most under-resourced communities.

Through the Promise Zone initiative, community-based organizations, direct service providers, residents, and business owners work with government agencies to enhance collective impact, streamline resources, and deliver comprehensive support.

Between 2016 and 2021, the unemployment rate decreased from 14.9% to 6.7%, and the poverty rate fell from 38.3% to 22.1% (ACS, 2016-21). We recognize there are many factors that contribute to these numbers. We do know that in the 8 years since the designation, targeted efforts from the city and CBOs have supported improvement in these areas; However, we recognize there is still plenty of work to do to continue advocating for our Promise Zone residents.
