City of San Diego Hourly Minimum Wage Will Increase to $17.25 Effective Jan. 1, 2025

INCREASE APPLIES TO ALL EMPLOYEES WHO WORK WITHIN SAN DIEGO CITY LIMITS

SAN DIEGO – Many San Diegans could see more money in their paychecks when the City's minimum wage goes up in the new year. Effective Jan. 1, 2025, employees who perform at least two hours of work in one or more calendar weeks of the year within the geographic boundaries of the city will receive a minimum wage increase from $16.85 to $17.25 an hour.

The change is in accordance with the City's Earned Sick Leave and Minimum Wage Ordinance, approved in 2016. The City's minimum wage is higher than California's minimum wage, which will increase to $16.50 on Jan. 1, 2025.

"This milestone reflects years of hard work and advocacy to put more money directly into the pockets of hardworking San Diegans," said Mayor Todd Gloria. "By raising the minimum wage, we are helping working families deal with the rising cost of living and better make ends meet."

The minimum wage in San Diego has gone up annually since 2019 by an amount corresponding to the prior year's increase in the cost of living as determined by the Consumer Price Index. The Minimum Wage Ordinance applies to all industries and businesses and there are no exceptions. Tips and gratuities do not count toward the payment of minimum wage.

In accordance with the ordinance, employees will also continue to earn sick leave, either by the accrual or "front load" method. The earned sick leave can be used for all of the reasons described in the ordinance, including but not limited to, time for their own medical care or for the medical care of a family member. Employers may limit an employee's use of earned sick leave to forty hours in a benefit year.

Updated notices for posting at the workplace are available on the City's Minimum Wage Program webpage. Every employer must post these notices in a conspicuous place at any workplace or job site.
